What do you think???

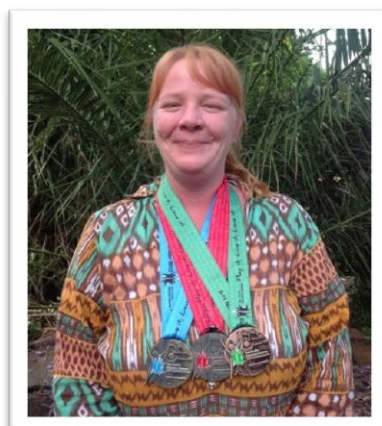

There are several cars which are usually parked all day in Cecil Street at the side gate. Originally we asked council to remove the parking meters to make it easier for patient to park near us: particularly those who have trouble walking.

We are thinking of asking council to re-instate the meters, so that these spaces will become available again, albeit at a slight additional cost.

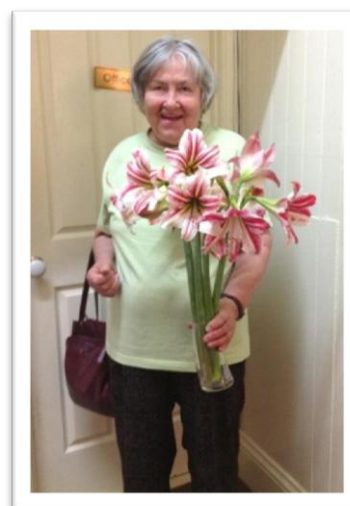

What is your opinion?

Office Update

Dr Hart

Dr Hart is looking forward to a Christmas filled with motorbike rides. He has posted a question for you to ponder over the holiday season. Dr Hart works every week Mondays & Thursdays.

Dr Tracy

As we come to the end of the year, Christmas always seems to sneak up on me no matter how I tell myself that I will be prepared next year. We are having 10 pin bowls Christmas party for the office this year so expect some funny photos. Glen and I would like to wish everyone a wonderful holiday season and we look forward to welcoming the New Year.

Dr Tracy will be working Tuesday, Wednesday, Fridays & Saturdays.

Dr Chan

Dr Chan has enjoyed coming back home from an awesome time in Chile and Argentina. She has over 6000 photos to sort through and slowly start to compile and organise into her book. It will be a long process however. Dr Chan is also back into her study of Advanced Clinical Nutrition. Dr Chan will be enjoying Christmas break on the coast. It will be a very quiet Christmas, as her family is either interstate or overseas. She hopes to continue thawing out from the ice cap, swimming at the beach and riding her bike. Should we survive the end of the Mayan calendar, Dr Chan will be back at work on Friday the 4th Jan. Dr Chan works Friday and Saturday.

Dr Meghan

Dr Meghan as always looks forward to the Christmas period. People do get a little stressed but generally everyone is happy and excited and it makes for a great time in the office. Dr Meghan will be staying home for Christmas and it will definitely be quiet and peaceful, with hopefully no Christmas Eve gastro bugs this year. She looks forward to spending time with the kids over the holidays and then getting back to the office and looking after our KCC family.

Dr Meghan is available Wednesday and Friday afternoons as well as every second Saturday.

Dr Sandie

Dr Sandie works Monday to Thursday every week.

Sue

Well it's that time of year again, when the jolly man in the big red suit, comes to visit those of us who have been GOOD all year. Sue is trying to make up for lost time, so if you see her running around the office being helpful, you will know she is trying to get in Santa's good books. Time will tell!!

Kathryn

Kathryn has a Christmas story she would like to share, a story that showed her what gratitude and Christmas really means to her: "I was thinking of what Christmas means to me and I remembered a Christmas when my children were 9 years and 7 years of age. We had just moved to a new location and new employment for my husband.

Finances were strained, made worse by a six week strike.

With the Christmas season upon us I worried how Santa was going to afford to provide gifts for the children. I expressed to the children my concern in a way a child could understand. To my utter amazement Paul, my son replied, 'Mum, if I ask Santa if I could just get pedals and wheels then maybe I could get the rest of the bike later'. I wanted to cry. I didn't care what it was going to take but Paul was going to get a bike and that he did. I will never forget the look on his little face that Christmas morning. He could not believe his eyes. Santa had brought him beautiful red BMX bike. I will always remember his words of gratitude, 'Mum! Dad! I only asked for the pedals and the wheels but Santa has given me the whole bike'. I loved that Christmas day, there is nothing like the love and innocence of a child to show you the true meaning of Christmas. p.s. That bike was the most cared for and loved bike. It made a young boy very happy.

Natalie

Natalie is spending Christmas with her two beautiful boys. She is looking forward to seeing all the patients throughout the coming weeks to wish them all the very best for the festive season. "On reflection of the past 10 months of being at Kennedy Chiropractic I am amazed and privileged to watch the effects that chiropractic work has on all of our patients, also my own personal journey having adjustments regularly how important it has been for my own health. I wish each and every one of you a happy and safe Christmas, see you all in 2013."
